This fan-fiction article, "Sova Madness", was written by Witcher190. Please do not edit this fiction without the writer's permission.

The "Sova Madness" is a rare hereditary mental illness which the Sova sorcerer's clan or those with their blood may suffer from. Some speculate that this may have been due to a certain time, where incest was common among the members of this clan.

Actually, the disease has not been shown to have specific symptoms, with others believing that more than a illness itself, it is a gene that gives way to several mental illnesses. Due to the different conditions shown by those Sova who have suffered it.

The illness usually manifests itself in different ways, but it is almost always when its members reach adulthood.
